Final Call for Proposals due May 3, 2021!
Visit our website for more details and to apply.

Next Year

The theme for Public Works’ final year is connecting more deeply to place. Watch for these exciting opportunities!
- Why Treaties Matter Exhibit, Sept 8-Oct 15. The exhibit explores how treaties with Native nations have shaped our relationship to the land and the vibrant Native communities that call Minnesota home.
- Elder-in-Residence, Spring 2022. This pilot program will bring a Dakota or Ojibwe elder to campus for a week-long residency.

Fall Opportunity

Weaving Arts and Humanities into the MN Master Naturalist Program, Fall 2021
Are you eager to learn more about the natural lands surrounding our campus while exploring new ways of using the Carleton Arboretum in your teaching or creative research? Please consider joining this group of faculty, staff, and community partners! Director of the Arboretum Nancy Braker and Visiting Professor in Studio Arts Eleanor Jensen offer an exciting opportunity to connect to the natural world, colleagues, and community members through a six-week MN Master Naturalist course. In addition to the Prairie and Potholes curriculum, this course utilizes drawing, nature writing, and other creative projects to explore the knowledge of Carleton faculty, staff, and local experts. Learn more and apply for a Public Works sponsored spot in the course.

2020-21 Awardees

Congratulations to our most recent awardees!
- Palmar Álvarez-Blanco, Spanish, Expanding Civic Engagement Course “Radio & News”
- Deborah Appleman, Educational Studies, Pandemic Pedagogy Behind Bars
- Andrew Carlson, Theater and Dance, Performing Justice
- Cecilia Cornejo, Cinema and Media Studies, The Embroidery Project
- Pamela Feldman-Savelsberg, Sociology and Anthropology, Social Connectedness and Fostering Mental Well-being for Refugees and Victims of Torture
- Kiley Kost & Seth Peabody, German, Green Germany
- Meredith McCoy, History and American Studies, Carleton Elder-in-Residence Pilot Program
- Michael McNally, Religion, ReligionsMN
- Eddie O’Byrn, Philosophy, Black Minnesota in the 1800s and 1900s

CCCE Workshop

Shaping our Shared Future: Advancing Equity through Community and Civic Engagement, June 16 & 17. This CCCE workshop will focus on participatory co-creation among community members, students, staff, and faculty as we strive to be ethical in our action and advance social and racial justice.