

EDUARD STORM

Curriculum Vitae

Contact Information

October 2020

Carleton College
Willis Memorial Hall 309
Department of Economics
One North College St
Northfield, MN 55057
USA

Email: estorm@carleton.edu
Web: eduardstorm.com
Phone: +1 (507) 222-5311
Citizenship: German

Academic Appointments

Carleton College

Visiting Assistant Professor

2020 - Present

Education

University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee

Ph.D., Economics

Ph.D. Thesis: "Skills, Tasks, and Wages in Labor Markets"

M.A., Economics

2020

2014

Justus Liebig University, Giessen, Germany

M.Sc., Economics

2015

Research and Teaching Interests

Primary: Labor Economics, Economics of Inequality

Secondary: Economics of Education, International Economics, Macroeconomics

Teaching Experience

Course Instructor (Including Scheduled)

2016 – 2021

Carleton College

2020 – 2021

History and Theory of Financial Crises (1 course)

Technological Change and the Labor Market

(1 course)

Principles of Macroeconomics

(3 courses)

University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee

2016 – 2020

International Economic Relations

(1 course)

Economic Statistics

(1 course)

Economics of Personal Finance

(4 courses)

Principles of Macroeconomics

(10 courses)

Instructor (Summer Bridge Program) 2017 – 2020
University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee

Financial Literacy (6 courses)

Teaching Assistant 2013 – 2016
University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee

Principles of Microeconomics (4 sections)

Principles of Macroeconomics (8 sections)

Instructor (Honorary, Student Initiative) 2011 – 2015
Justus Liebig University, Giessen, Germany

Foundations of Financial Markets (6 courses)

Working Papers

“On the Measurement of Tasks: Conceptual Benefits of Using Survey over Expert-based Data” 2020

“Task Specialization and the Native-Foreign Wage Gap: Evidence from Worker-level Data” 2020

Research in Progress

“Does Immigration Induce more Natives to Enroll in College?”

“Wage Inequality: A Task-Based Approach”

“Tasks and the Gains from Specialization”

“Signaling Skills: A Model of Occupational Choice and Task Specialization”

“Another Boom in Demand for Skill? Implications of Remote Work for Organizational Capital”

Awards and Honors

Richard Perlman Prize for Outstanding Paper in Labor Economics (UWM) 2020

UWM Graduate Student Excellence Fellowship Award 2020

(Declined due to graduation ahead of conferral)

William L. Holahan Prize for Outstanding Teaching in Economics (UWM) 2019

University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee Chancellor’s Graduate Student Award 2016 – 2017

Conference and Seminar Presentations (Economics Department unless otherwise listed)

Including scheduled – University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee Labor Workshop, 2020
Annual Conference of Macroeconomists from Liberal Arts Colleges,
Southern Economic Association Annual Meeting

University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee Labor Workshop 2019

Professional Activities

Employment	Student Employee: Mutual Fund Rating FERI EuroRating Services AG , Bad Homburg, Germany (Meanwhile acquired by Scope Ratings GmbH)	2011 – 2015
University Service	Presenter at TA Training for new Teachers	2018 – 2019
	Leadership Role: Student Initiative (Fin. Markets)
	- Vice President	2014 – 2015
	- Board Member for Communication	2011 – 2013
Session Chair	Southern Economic Association Annual Meeting	2020
Reviewer	Journal of Economic Behavior and Organization, Industrial Relations: A Journal of Economy and Society
Memberships	American Economic Association, Society of Labor Economists, Southern Economic Association

Skills

IT Languages	EViews, LaTeX, MATLAB, R, STATA German (native), English (fluent)
--------------	--

References

Prof. Scott D. Drewianka
Department of Economics
University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee
sdrewian@uwm.edu

Prof. Mark Kanazawa
Department of Economics
Carleton College
mkanazaw@carleton.edu

Prof. Rebecca Neumann
Department of Economics
University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee
rneumann@uwm.edu

Prof. Scott J. Adams
Department of Economics
University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee
sjadams@uwm.edu