We'd love to have you as a Religion major!

Religion (RELG)

Major Requirements: Total of 69 credits

Three 100-level courses: RELG 110, and two courses numbered between 120-170

Theories and Methods: RELG 300 (taken winter term of the junior year)

Senior Research Seminar: RELG 399 (taken winter term of the senior year)

Two 300-level seminars (not including RELG 300, 359 and 399)

Integrative Exercise: RELG 400 (3 credits, taken spring term of the senior year)

In addition, majors are required to take a minimum of 12 credits that are focused on the same tradition or region of the world. If applicable, these courses can also satisfy other requirements in the major.

Major requirements can be fulfilled through “Religion Pertinent” courses offered by other departments. OCS courses with a significant component on religious studies would be approved as “Religion Pertinent” upon petition. There is no limit on the number of Religion Pertinent courses that can count towards the major.
