

EXTENSIONS OF OPT

Cap Gap Extension for OPT – H-1B transition

You must remain in contact with Carleton and inform the international student adviser of any possible changes to your status, such as F-1 to H-1B application. Consult with your employer's immigration attorney regarding further H-1B issues.

Those students whose employers have properly filed an H-1B petition and a change of status request (filed under the cap for the next fiscal year) will have their authorized employment period automatically extended until their approved H-1B start date, October 1.

Students whose H-1B petition were filed during the 60-day grace period after the end of their initial 12-month OPT will not be eligible to work, but may be able to stay in the US until October 1 if the H-1B petition is approved.

The cap-gap extension of F-1 status and OPT work authorization automatically ends on September 30. If the H-1B petition is rejected, denied, or withdrawn, the student's automatic OPT work extension and F-1 status will immediately end and the student will have 60 days (from notification of denial) to depart the US or change status.

Students should not travel internationally when an H-1B petition and a change of status application is pending.

The cap-gap extension is automatically granted to all students who meet the above criteria, and your employer may require proof of employment eligibility in the form of a new I-20. Please contact Carleton College and provide proof of H-1B application, including letter of employment and H-1B receipt notification.

Student must still report all the required changes, including unemployment period and address changes during the extension period, within 10 days of their occurrence. Students who have OPT extended due to the cap gap provisions continue to accrue unemployment time and are subject to the 90-day limit on unemployment.

In order to maintain your status and work authorization, students must report to Carleton the following within 10 days of any changes:

- Legal name
- Residential or mailing address
- Employer name and/or address
- Any periods of unemployment

Types of Eligible Employment

STEM 24-month Extension Employment must be at least 20 hours/week for an E-Verify employer in a position directly related to his or her DHS-approved STEM Major CIP code.

- Multiple employers. Work for one or more employer, but all employment must relate to student's degree program and each employer must be enrolled in E-Verify and must complete I-983 training plan.
- Work for hire. Referred to as 1099 employment, where an individual performs a serviced on a contractual relationship rather than an employment relationship. The company for whom the student is providing service to must be E-Verify participant and employment must also be related to student's degree. If requested by DHS, student must provide evidence showing duration of the contract period and the name and address of the contracting company.
- Self-employed business owner. Student on STEM extension may start a business and be self-employed, but the student's business must be registered with E-Verify and the student must be actively engaged full-time in the business that relates to student's degree. Student must prove that s/he has the proper business licenses(s).
- Employment through an agency or consulting firm. Student's STEM Extension may be through employment agency or consulting firm but either must be E-Verify participant, but the third party contracting with the agency or firm (which the student is providing services) need not be.

It is recommended the student maintains evidence for each job documenting the position held, proof of the duration of that position, the job title, contact information for the student's supervisor or manager, and description of the work.

If it is not clear from the job description that the work is related to the student's degree, SEVP recommends that the student obtain a signed letter from his or her hiring official, supervisor, or manager stating how the student's degree is related to the work performed.

Application Procedures

Students and the Form I-983

Before applying to USCIS for a STEM OPT extension, a STEM OPT student must download, complete, sign and submit the Form I-983 to their DSO. Students are responsible for facilitating the completion of this form, submitting it with their STEM OPT application and returning it to their DSO, who will keep it in the student's record. DHS maintains the discretion to request and review all documentation for eligibility concerns.

The STEM OPT student must complete Section 1 of the Form I-983 and work with their prospective employer to complete Sections 2-6. For more information about these sections, please visit the Employers and the Form I-983 resource page. STEM OPT students are also responsible for completing annual self-evaluations.
